Winemaker's Notes:

The 2011 Cabernet Sauvignon is deep and bold ruby in color, indicating the bold flavor profile of this vintage. The nose presents black plum, olive, graphite, and oak; while the mouth gives way to bright berry notes of raspberry, strawberry, and blackberry. A finish of black cherry and licorice, with a balanced tannic structure make this a classic Napa Valley Cabernet. This vintage of Cabernet Sauvignon is ready to drink now and will age gracefully for 15-20 years.

White Rock Vineyards:

Situated in a small valley in the southern foothills of the Stag's Leap Range the estate began making wine in the 1870's. The Vandendriessche family continues in the tradition of natural sustainable farming, since 1977. Volcanic ash soils, hillside vines, cooler climate, hand crafting on the land and in the cave make these wines complex, concentrated and with a mineral character expressing the earth itself.
